Report on World No Tobacco Day Celebration, 2023

The Department of Zoology at Mugberia Gangadhar Mahavidyalaya successfully organized a meaningful observance of World No Tobacco Day on May 31, 2023. This event was aimed at spreading awareness about the severe health risks associated with tobacco consumption and promoting a healthier lifestyle within our academic community.

Event Details:

- Date: May 31, 2023
- Organized by: Department of Zoology, Mugberia Gangadhar Mahavidyalaya

The occasion was marked by various informative and interactive sessions that effectively conveyed the importance of tobacco control. Attendees actively participated in engaging discussions, awareness campaigns, and enlightening presentations, all of which underscored the need to combat tobacco use for the sake of our overall well-being.

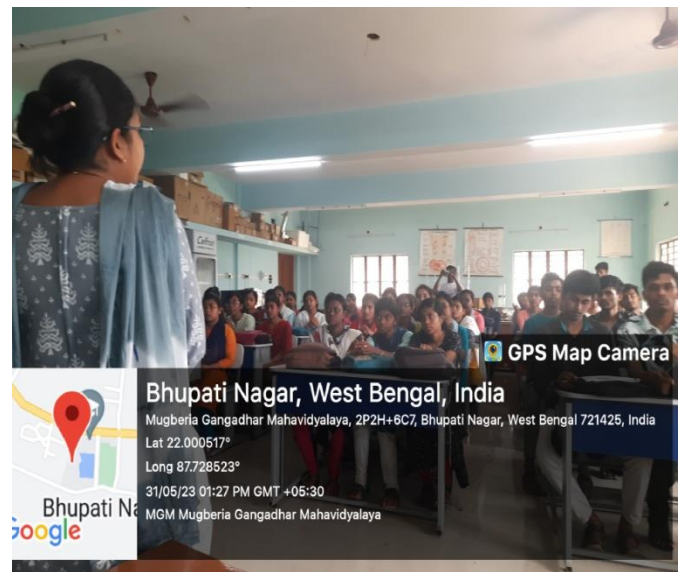

The enthusiastic participation of students, esteemed faculty members, and dedicated administrative staff truly reflected our shared commitment to creating a tobacco-free environment within our institution.

This event would not have been possible without the dedication and collective effort of the Department of Zoology and all individuals who contributed their time and resources to ensure its success. As we reflect on this achievement, we express our heartfelt gratitude to everyone involved. Together, we have made a positive impact by raising awareness and encouraging healthier choices. We anticipate that this event will serve as a stepping stone for future initiatives that promote a healthier lifestyle and a tobacco-free community.
