National Constitution Day Celebration, 2020

Mugberia Gangadhar Mahavidyalaya's National Service Scheme (NSS) marked the significance of "National Constitution Day" on 26th November, 2020, embracing an innovative online approach. The event garnered active participation from students, faculty members, and administrative staff, creating an engaging and insightful virtual celebration.

The program commenced with a tribute to Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, the principal architect of the Indian Constitution. Distinguished speakers provided valuable insights into the historical context, making the event an educative experience for all attendees. The discussions delved into the relevance of the constitution in contemporary times, emphasizing its role in shaping the nation's democratic fabric.

One of the highlights of the celebration was the inclusion of student performances, bringing a dynamic and creative dimension to the virtual platform. Students showcased their talents through thought-provoking speeches, artistic presentations, and engaging debates, contributing to a holistic understanding of the constitutional values.

The virtual mode did not hinder the participatory spirit; instead, it facilitated a broader reach, allowing more students and staff to actively engage in the celebration. The event succeeded not only in commemorating the drafting of the constitution but also in fostering a deeper understanding and appreciation among the participants.

We express our gratitude to all participants for their enthusiastic involvement, making the National Constitution Day celebration a memorable and meaningful occasion. The success of this event highlights the adaptability and commitment of the Mugberia Gangadhar Mahavidyalaya community to uphold and celebrate our constitutional
